

Performance indices of three tier application

A three tier architecture application, has been modelled with the following queuing network:

Compute:

1. The visits of the three stations
2. The demand of the three station
3. Is the system stable?